

Committee on Civil & Political Rights (CPR)

In carrying out its duties and responsibilities, the following shall be considered within the authority of the Committee on Civil & Political Rights (CPR):

1. Draw up proposals and recommendations pertaining to the promotion and protection of civil and political rights prior to their referral to National Institution for Human Rights (NIHR) Council of Commissioners.
2. Provide opinion pertaining to Civil and Political rights issues referred to CPR by NIHR Council of Commissioners or brought before NIHR Chairman.
3. Review civil and political rights guarantees, suggest recommendations, monitor the implementation of international covenants pertaining to civil and political rights and provide (NIHR) Board of Commissioners with proposals and recommendations on integral execution of international conventions.
4. Provide opinion on Bahrain's accession to further civil and political rights conventions and review Bahrain's reserves on certain provisions stipulated in covenants and treaties it had already endorsed.

5. Monitor and ascertain the implementation of international conventions and treaties pertaining to all civil and political rights and public liberties and suggest recommendations pertaining to their integral implementation.
6. Scrutinize national legislations and legal provisions pertaining to civil and political rights towards their development, provide opinion on the extent of their adherence to universal human rights standards and suggest necessary recommendations for their amendments.
7. The CPR shall undertake any other tasks assigned by NIHR Chairman or mandated NIHR Council of Commissioners.
